FOREWORD

Between the covers of this book, the first volume of The Indian Legend, we, the Senior Class, present the 1941-1942 diary of our school. May this recall pleasant memories to the students and may you, our patrons, appreciate the development of our school of which we, the class of 1942, are very proud.

DEDICATION

To Mrs. Rubie Lee Johnson, constant friend, a sincere advisor and a dependable instructor ever working for the good of the school, we gratefully dedicate this, the first Volume of The Indian Legend.

FALMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL SONG

Dear Falmouth when we leave you
We will love you just the same
We will always call you "dear school",
That will always be your name.
Up the golden ladder we'll travel
That leads to success and fame
But you'll still be our dear High School
And we'll love you just the same.

Dear school you know we love you
To you we'll be so true
We'll remember all the dear friends
We've made while at this school
So, forget all of your troubles
Let a loyal spirit rule
And we'll always sing to-gether
To the praise of our dear school.

Dear Falmouth, Falmouth High School
The pride of Stafford youth
You're a school of charm and duty
And stand for faith and truth.
So, goodbye to our dear High School
We will lift up the veil
And sing Dear Falmouth High School!
Falmouth High School Hail.

ADMINISTRATION

A. C. NICHOLLS, Principal

To the Seniors, the graduating class of 1942, I leave this brief but sincere message:

"Your work is not finished, but in a sense only beginning. You now enter another school, one of higher learning and greater aims. May you all accept the responsibilities, proportional, to the greatness of her powers, and the greatness of her interests. My wish is yours for success and good fortune always."

SENIOR CHARACTERISTICS

*Every morning at 6:35
Ann Allison has no sleep in her eyes.
Vim, Vigor, and Vitality, is always shown
On the face of Mary Bourne.
Our studious lassie, Marion Brooks,
Does not go to school for her looks.
Angeline Bradshaw with pencil in hand
Her wonderful pictures are often Od-ham.
Frances DeShazo, you witty little elf,
Will our class ever make sure of itself?
A corner in our class room is silent
Who is at it?
When we find out—it's Elizabeth Catlett.
A poultry yard is Virginia Shelton's aim,
But the only poultry is "Guinea" by name.
A little girl with love, we fell in
And that little girl is Lucy Snellings.
Vernon Snellings with Dainty little feet
Is always dancing, even on the streets.
Helen Wilson, you are so little
It's a wonder they didn't use you for a fiddle.
Jeannette Heflin is so undecided
You can never tell what she is hiding.
When "Puss" is called from Tarapin Thickets
You can always bet on Elizabeth Limerick.
The fun of our room is never the same
Except when we look at Marye Payne.
After school and before it's begun,
She's always flirting—Doris Nicholson.
When in through the room comes Aileen Moyer
We know what's next "Hi Boys How are Ya"!
If a boy looks at her and smiles, you know,
She's always in a flutter that's Page Truslow.
We all have our thorough belief
It must be Fish Gills with Alice Schlieff.
Quiet as a mouse sitting on a bench
Is our cute little boy, John French.
Our basketball star Strong and Swift
Is nobody but handsome Howard Smith.
Burrell Bradshaw is little no doubt
He came from the wilds of Old White Oak.*

VALEDICTORY

Members of the faculty, parents, classmates and friends:

We, the class of 1942, have gathered here to say our farewells to friends and each other. It is my privilege to deliver these farewells.

Our teachers have instructed us to the best of their ability; our parents have sacrificed to send us through four years of high school and we hope that our achievements will compensate their sacrifices and instruction. Our appreciation and gratitude go to both.

Now we are to go out into the world and make our own fortunes; it will not be our diplomas that will determine our future but we ourselves. Each of us should dedicate himself to the building of a better and stronger America for an everlasting peace.

We are now going out into a world of strife and war and it is our duty to help replace what used to be. Our country — each and every one of us — is facing a long hard war. Some of our classmates will go into the armed services of our country, while others will help in work at home.

There are many blessings of democracy of which we should be proud. Among them are:

1. Equal opportunity and rights regardless of race, wealth or position.
2. The right of self-government by the election of our own representatives to make just laws.
3. Freedom of speech, religion, and press — the freedom to live as we please as long as we obey the laws.
4. Trial by jury which means freedom from persecution and seizure of private property.

Realizing these as privileges we should see the importance of each individual's effort to make our way of living purely democratic. This can not be attained through just a part of the citizens but all of them working cooperatively to accomplish one main goal. So may not one of us be found guilty of shirking his duty!

As young men and young women who are facing this critical situation we should make it our most important aim to see that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth, for without it, we shall have to return to the dark days of slavery where their masters and freedoms are unknown.

And now dear teachers, classmates, friends and last of all, dear school, we leave a happy past behind and an uncertain future facing us. It is with both a happy and sorrowful thought that we, the class of 1942, bid you farewell.

FRANCES DESHAZO.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of 1942 of Falmouth High School, having finished our long life in an undisturbed and fearless state of mind, do hereby will, bequeath and devise our possessions and worldly goods to the deserving.

We are making these bequests without being influenced by other favors and without taking advice from anyone but to a certain extent, our own common sense. We hope the statements which will be said in this document will be contented.

1. To Mr. Nicholls we bequeath a baseball team that will be a success and also a good basketball team next year like the one we had this year.

2. To Mrs. Johnson we wish to leave our intelligence for the Shorthand Class which she will have next year and also luck and success with the Seniors of '43.

3. To Mrs. Briggs we leave all the kindness and love we can and hope her English class next year will be as smart as we were.

4. To Mrs. Beable, one of our sweetest teachers, we leave all the luck and happiness we can spare at the present time.

5. To Miss Averitt, and Miss Cahall two of our new teachers we leave our sincere sympathy, and hope for all the cooperation from every student.

6. To Mrs. Felts we devise a neat Home Economics room, and hope you much success with your class of boys in the future.

7. To Mr. Young we devise all the luck in the future with your Agriculture boys.

8. To Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. White, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Chinn, and Mrs. McRae the grade teachers, we leave our thanks and appreciation for the things they have all done for us in the past four years.

9. To the Seniors of next year, we leave you the dignity and success we had this year.

10. To the Juniors of next year, we wish to leave you luck with all the teachers and our best wishes for your Junior year.

11. To the Sophomores of next year, we leave our successful determination to graduate as happy as we are.

12. To the Freshmen of next year, we bequeath our most dignified school spirit.

We would like to leave these to the following persons:

1. Howard Smith leaves his athletic ability to Johnny Benton and also wishes to leave his love and sweetness to Shirley Gallahan.

2. Russell Sullivan leaves his popularity with the girls, especially with Rosann Lupton, to Ralph Chinn.

3. Marye Payne leaves her ability as class comedian to Leathie Mae Jett.

4. Burrell Bradshaw leaves his quiet ways to Clifton Burton.

5. John French leaves his determination to study and also his school books to Harold Odham.

6. Page Truslow leaves her sweet ways and smiles to Nancy Bayliss.

7. Vernon Snellings leaves her make-up and hair do's to Sadie Coakley.

8. Elizabeth Catlett leaves her slim waist line to Gloria Peregoy.

9. Frances DeShazo leaves her intelligent ways to Caroline Brooks.

10. Marion Brooks leaves her beautiful figure to the one and only Hazel Hanks.

11. Mary Payne leaves her friendliness and sweet smiles to Mabel Hanks.

12. Aileen Moyer wishes to leave her singing and dancing ability to Rosann Lupton.

13. Mary Bourne leaves her excellent baseball and basketball playing to Doris Ballard.

We continue the following bequests and hope they are accepted:

1. To Charlotte Horne, Ann Allison leaves her attractiveness to become May Queen next year.

--- The Indian Legend for 'Forty-Two ---

2. Angeline Bradshaw leaves her best wishes to the lucky girl who is Maid of Honor next year.

3. To Alvin Gill, Alice Schlieff leaves her love and affection.

4. Jeannette Heflin leaves her mischief to Virgie Bradshaw.

5. Lucy Snellings leaves her pleasantly plump figure to Roberta Ward.

6. Virginia Shelton leaves her sweet disposition to Elva Dye.

7. Helen Wilson leaves her quiet and studious character to Vera Barber.

8. To Roberta McAllister, Elizabeth Limerick leaves her laughing and happy ways.

9. Elwood Bowie leaves his junk dealing business to Dan Moore.

10. Doris Nicholson leaves her job as Junior League Treasurer to Florence Payne.

Last comes the saddest of all, our parting from the school and our friends.

We leave with everyone our luck and happiness in the future, and our forgiveness for anything that we have said or have done wrong.

I am here to inform you that this will was properly signed and witnessed in my presence and with the forms of laws in the state of Virginia, this testament is absolutely perfect.

In testimony thereof, we, the class of 1942, set our hands and seal this on the fifth day of June, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Two.

DORIS MAE NICHOLSON.

Witnesses:

Page Estelle Truslow,
Marion June Brooks.

SALUTATORY

Welcome, friends, faculty and fellow-students to this, the farewell party of the class of '42. It is a great occasion for all of us and for you too, we hope, because without the guidance and helping hands of each of you, we would not be here tonight proclaiming our first step toward success.

We are proud to be here but do not confuse proudness with vainness; we could not have attained this alone. Our thanks could never be expressed in words, so it is useless for me to try. I only hope that each of you will see beneath these simple words, our gratitude to a patient faculty, sacrificing parents, and loyal friends. This is the day we have longed for, have looked forward to and have planned for. This day belongs to us, the class of '42, it is ours to remember always, to look back on with both smiles and tears.

Each senior tonight is held between conflicting emotions, those of joy and sorrow. Each one of us should rejoice in the fact that he has finished one task, and is beginning a greater one. However, bidding good-bye tonight to our school days, our classmates and to the faculty which we have all come to love, makes us sorrowful.

I am very proud of the privilege to greet and extend to each of you a most cordial welcome to this program — The Class Night of the 1942 Seniors.

MARION BROOKS.

CLASS HISTORY

History is a record of man's development and growth. Such a development includes failures, as well as successes; therefore, a review of our activities during the past four years would bring a few somewhat unpleasant memories along with the many, many pleasant ones of our high school days, but let us pass over our mistakes keeping in mind the thought that we have profitted by them.

Falmouth High School opening for its eighth year greeted us, the Freshman class proud but timid and shy, on a bright September morning. With the ringing of the cow bell, we were ushered into a room but since sixty-two of us were too many for one teacher, Mr. Bolton and Miss Ferrell divided us between them. Thus we, occupying the regular Freshman room and auditorium, started our high school career.

During this year we rated one date on the school calendar when we were hosts and hostesses at a party for the Sophomores. The rest of the time we, anxiously awaiting the time when we would become the principals of Falmouth High School, kept our seats in the background.

In 1939 we returned as Sophomores full of wisdom, we thought. The enlargement of our building which meant a more spacious auditorium, and additional rooms; such as, a home economics three room apartment and the commercial department quarters, was a pleasant surprise for us. We experienced many changes in our faculty — five in all: Mrs. Quattlebaum, Mr. Williams, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Upton, and Mrs. Briggs. That spring we were guests of the Freshmen at a delightful party given in our auditorium.

We numbering about twenty less than originally, entered the Junior class; some of our classmates had stopped to go to work, and others failing in their subjects, had been left behind. At last we were getting in the spotlight and others were realizing our importance to Falmouth High School. The Seniors gave a very enjoyable dance in our honor. We worked very hard that year to finance the biggest event of the school term, the Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance. Our bankroll was accumulated through proceeds of a benefit movie—thanks to Mr. Pitts—sale of candy and a play, Lena Rivers. A delightful trip to Fairview Beach expressed "So Long" to each other for a pleasant summer vacation.

In September 1941 we, now the principal characters of the school, proudly moved into the Senior room and took over our all-important job. We regretted Mr. Bolton's absence because of illness; however, we soon were well acquainted with Mr. Nicholls who as teacher and coach has patiently and competently guided us through this year. Through much hard work and cooperation between teachers and pupils, we are proud of the fact that we published the first annual, THE INDIAN LEGEND, and presented the first operetta, In An Old Kentucky Garden, at Falmouth High School.

Thus our group activities end and our high school days will be a pleasant memory that lingers forever in each of our minds.

HOWARD SMITH.

CLASS POEM

*Backward, turn backward, OH! time in thy flight,
And make us Freshmen again just for tonight,
Teachers come back and teach us once more
Math, English, History and Science galore.
We were a large class of Freshmen, brave and strong,
But when we became Sophomores, some had gone.
We thirty-six Juniors have studied very hard,
All studying together with one accord,
And now as Seniors, we number twenty-three,
We have all done our best as you can see.
Let me introduce them, one and all,
Be their accomplishments great or small.
Marion Brooks, our president, led us to fame;
I am sure you know her by face and name.
Our vice-president and athletic star
Is Howard Smith, known near and far.
There's Angeline Bradshaw, with her winning ways
As class secretary, she has won much praise.
There's Virginia Shelton, treasurer of our class,
She's an efficient, friendly and shy little lass.
Mary Ann Allison, our lovely May Queen,
Is as charming a lady as ever was seen.
Mary Bourne worked hard in every game,
And captained her team to a great deal of fame.
Our annual staff leader, Frances DeShazo
Like the best of editors, can truly make things go.
Russell Sullivan, our "Gay Senorita"
I don't think you can find anyone sweeter.
Our plump little red-head of the class, Page Truslow,
Will be greatly missed by all when she has to go.
Jeanette Heflin, a saleswoman, so dear
Has helped our school a great deal this year.
Doris Nicholson, the little sweet thing,
Is always on time when the bell has to ring.
So small and bashful is our John French
Who in baseball can do more than sit on the bench.
Aileen Moyer, a new student at Falmouth High,
Will be missed as the others when we say, "Good-bye".
Mary Christine Payne, whom we now behold,
Never leaves a place until a joke is told.
Fighting against Stafford to win a game? good grief!
They have to be good to put it past Alice Schlieff.
Elizabeth Limerick will be waiting happy and gay,
When sailors come home singing "Anchors Aweigh".
Marye Payne, a friendly and very loving girl,
Can get along with anyone in this old world.
Elizabeth Catlett, the blond of the class,
Is always ahead; she will never be last.
Vernon Snellings, whose eyes dance with glee
When she hears the Marine Hymn, "To The Shores of Tripoli".
Burrell Bradshaw, so timid and quiet in school,
Always abides by each golden rule.
Elwood Bowie can always easily be found
At most any time, busying around town.*

HELEN WILSON.

CLASS SONG

OH! FALMOUTH HIGH

*Oh, Falmouth High, we're leaving you;
We are sorry to depart.
Your memories we'll never forget;
They'll remain here in my heart.
Dear Classmates, now we have to part;
This sadness brings us pain.
We'll say so long but not good-bye,
And will hope to meet again.*

*Good-bye, dear teachers, one and all,
While eyes are filled with tears,
Our hearts are heavy laden, too
After all these happy years.
Oh, Falmouth High, Oh, Falmouth High!
This sadness brings us pain.
We'll say so long but not good-bye,
And we'll hope to meet again.*

Spotsylvania	Spotsylvania	16	22
King George	Falmouth	11	32

Our basketball season from the victory standpoint was most successful. Our record was nine wins and three losses. Colonial Beach, our first foe, was, without a doubt, our most difficult opponent. Victories were well earned from King George, Stafford, Spotsylvania, Caroline and Fluvanna, and defeat was met at Colonial Beach and Fredericksburg.

A most successful season was enjoyed and high hopes are held for next year.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach -----Albert C. Nicholls      Captain -----Mary Bourne

The girls basketball team of Falmouth High again enjoyed a very successful season. While going down to defeat only once in fourteen games and this being at the hands of Fluvanna, the girls team was rated the second best in the State. Although the girls will be without the services of Mary Bourne and Alice Schlieff next season, it is expected that the team will be just as strong and that it will come back to win the championship which it held in 1941.
